Tropical Heat for Marie Claire at Tokoriki Island Resort

Tokoriki Island Resort, Mamanuca Islands, Fiji:

Yanuya Village and Tokoriki Island Resort's lush gardens and sandy white beach set the scene for Marie Claire's 'Tropical Heat' story (page 146), featured in the January edition of the popular magazine out now. The Marie Claire Team, headed up by photographer Steven Chee enjoyed time out at Tokoriki whilst shooting around the Sacred Islands, Yanuya Village and Tokoriki Island Resort.

Their storyline? To show the culture, relaxed warmth and tropical atmosphere of Fiji and they found it at Tokoriki Island Resort. "We were looking for palm trees and hammocks. The real Fiji experience' noted Marie Claire Fashion Editor Ms Kate Harrowsmith. 'Tokoriki Island Resort ticked all the boxes.' The Marie Claire Crew captured their storyline during their trip to Tokoriki Island Resort with their behind the scenes antics also captured 'On Location' on page 20.

Although the shoot took place in July, the results were so good that Marie Claire shifted the story to the January edition to allow for more space. It's the biggest shoot featured by Marie Claire Australia.
